Course Description

This course provides a comprehensive survey of the history of video games. The class begins by exploring ancient games, early mechanical novelty machines, pinball and computers. The bulk of the class examines arcade games, modern console games, and game hardware. This class will detail the people, the technology, and the companies that have made video games the multibillion dollar industry that it is today. Hands-on study and analysis will include writing about, discussing, and playing games past and present.

Learning Outcomes

Students who complete this course will:

A. Have a broad understanding of the significant early video games
B. Be able to identify the advances in the technologies that shaped the games industry
C. Be able to write effectively about the history of computer games/video games
D. Be able to identify and discuss key persons in computer gaming history
E. Understand the lineage of notable companies and games in the game industry

Requirements and Evaluation

Students should check Blackboard regularly to check assignments and participate in class assignments and activities. Course material will consist of lectures, discussions, videos, hands-on gameplay, and online discussions.

Students will show their knowledge and mastery of the material via tests and a set of short research papers focused on important games, hardware, and industry figures. These assignments will be spread evenly throughout the semester. See Blackboard for all assignment details and due dates.

Students’ final grades are calculated by comparing their scores to the maximum possible score. The breakdown is as follows:
• 70% - Projects and Assignments
• 20% - Tests
• 10% - Discussions

A: 90–100 B: 80–89.9 C:70–79.9 D: 60–69.9 F: 0–59.9

Required Texts and Materials
The Ultimate History of Video Games: From Pong to Pokemon
By Steven L. Kent
ISBN: 0761536434

Assumptions
It is assumed that students are familiar with MLA and/or APA formatting or resources that contain such guidelines for writing assignments. It is also assumed that students have regular access to email and the Internet. Any issues with email or Blackboard access should be taken up with university ITU. Finally, it is assumed that students are familiar with and have regular access to Microsoft Word.

Late Work
Unless otherwise noted, all quizzes, assignments, and projects must be submitted no later than 11:59 PM on their due date. Anything submitted after this time will be considered late. They can still be turned in for credit, but for each day a quiz or assignment is late your score will be reduced by 5%. The final turn in date for late assignments and quizzes is one week after their original due date. After that, they will automatically receive a score of 0.

Late work will only be accepted without penalty in the case of a documented medical illness or another serious extenuating circumstance. In such cases, please contact the instructor as soon as possible to discuss the situation.

Class Participation
Students are expected to actively engage in online discussions and activities. These are a required portion of the course and offer additional information about and understanding of the material. They also provide opportunities for bonus points.

Online Participation
All course assignments and due dates can be found on Blackboard, along with announcements, lectures, and other important information. All assignments and discussions also utilize Blackboard. Therefore, it is recommended that students familiarize themselves with Blackboard at the start of the semester and check it regularly. If you have any non-technical questions about Blackboard and how it’s utilized as part of the course, don’t hesitate to ask.

E-Mail Policy
Students must use their MasonLIVE or gmu.edu email accounts to receive important University information, including messages related to this class. See http://masonlive.gmu.edu for more information.
